Main goals for 2013

In 2013, the activities carried out in 2012 will continue to be consolidated and broadened. Furthermore, in Spain, two new programs will be carried out intended to assist with situations created by the economic crisis: the awarding of financial aid for training and internships for unemployed young people, to help them attain stable employment, and the awarding of financial aid to families with insufficient financial means so they may buy textbooks.

Our Insurance Sciences Institute aims to drive and disseminate knowledge in relation to Insurance and Risk Management, through different activities: dissemination of the insurance culture, specialized training, studies and research, and the awarding of financial aid and prizes. Along this line, in 2012, the Insurance Sciences Institute continued working towards being an institutional reference in the knowledge generation in both spheres, using the internet more and more as a main tool of its activities. Likewise, information exchange standards have been adapted to make specialized documents available to society, including the following indicators:

- The Documentation Center web page was visited 276,409 times, 48,536 documents were downloaded, 174 subscriptions or new material emailed, and 10,414 new materials were directly consulted online. The Documentation Center staff has assisted 3,020 direct inquiries on documental searches and information.

- The Insurance Virtual Museum was visited 104,265 times and 77 tours were given at the actual Museum with 1,078 visitors.

- The RED CUMES Social Network web page was visited 35,910 times which has to date 1,274 registered members.

- The MAPFRE Electronic Insurance Dictionary was visited 987,152 times and the Risk Management and Insurance magazine 73,977 times.

- The Insurance for Everyone website was visited 20,874 times.

- 7,837 reports and rankings prepared by the Studies Center were downloaded from the web page and 14,977 electronic publications of the Institute were downloaded from the web page.

In training, the Institute offers a broad range of specialized courses and master's degrees in insurance and risk management, and awards financial aid for different amounts.

Institutional actions and contacts

- The institute has carried out its activities in collaboration with 14 institutions or non-profit entities in Spain and 11 other countries.
- In 2012, collaboration agreements were signed with the Bank of Spain, the National Stock Market Commission, for the development of "Insurance for Everyone" materials; with the University of Anáhuac México Norte for scholarships in Insurance; and with the Pontifical Catholic University of Chile for the undertaking of a study on the Chile earthquake.

Main goals for 2013

In 2013, the Institute will continue to promote awareness-raising and the culture of the Insurance and Risk Management fields to:

- Increase, up to 300, the number of beneficiaries of the financial aid program for unemployed residents of Spain, as well as financial aid with a new line of financial aid for professional training.
- Increase research activity in topics in relation to insurance with new studies in collaboration with the Autonomous University of Madrid, AFI (International Financial Analysts) and ICEA (Cooperative Research among Insurance Entities and Pension Funds).
- The work History of Insurance in Spain is currently in advanced stage of preparation and will be published.
- Specialized webinars will be held for e-learning and insurance awareness-raising through RED CUMES.
- Material will continue to be developed for the "Insurance for Everyone" program by creating four new basic training courses in insurance.
- The technological tools used for its activities will continue to be updated, for which a large budget has been appropriated for the study of several adaptations to mobile applications for the Documentation Center, the Insurance Museum, the Training Area and the MAPFRE Insurance Dictionary.
- A framework collaboration agreement will be promoted with the main public and private universities in Latin America, in order to raise awareness of and promote Insurance within said centers.

Our Culture Institute's overall goal is to contribute to the promotion and diffusion of Culture, Arts and History, and therefore carries out the following activities:

- Organization of exhibitions of artistic works at the foundation's gallery in Madrid (Paseo de Recoletos, 23 and Avenida del General Perón, 40) and also in other cities, in collaboration with cultural institutions and museums, mainly European and Latin American.

2012 has been an important year for the Institute due to the magnitude and relevance of the projects it has carried out. Among them stand out the exhibition "Paris: Impressionism and modernity" at the Bank of Brazil Cultural Center, in Sao Paulo and Rio de Janeiro. They were an unprecedented landmark in the world of exhibitions in Latin America due to the large number of master works transferred from the Musée d'Orsay in Paris for this occasion, to the large number of visitors and to its broad repercussions in the media. Also, notably successful were the exhibitions "Portraits:

Institutional actions and contacts

The institute has carried out its activities in collaboration with 54 institutions or non-profit entities in Spain and 12 other countries.

In 2012, agreements were entered into with the Friends of the Prado Museum Foundation (Spain), the Carolina Foundation (Spain), the CNSE Foundation (Spain), the Meadows Museum (USA), the Musée d'Orsay (France) and the San Fernando Royal Academy of Fine Arts (Spain).

Main goals for 2013

The Institute's main goals for 2013 are:

- To continue to carry out scientific activities with broad dissemination.
- To consolidate the Institute's presence on the internet through thematic websites, virtual libraries, social networks and activities.
- To establish steady collaborations with cultural institutions in the United States.
- To consolidate a History department that would combine and manage all of the activities of this discipline.

Along this line, during the first six months of 2013, two large exhibitions will be presented in Madrid that could be once-in-a-lifetime: "Impressionists and post-impressionists. The birth of modern art," with the collaboration of the Musée d'Orsay; and "Bohemian Lights," in collaboration with the Grand Palais in Paris. Large international exhibitions are also being prepared in collaboration with Spanish institutions.

The collaboration agreement entered into with the Meadows Museum in Dallas is hugely important for the preparation in 2014 of a large exhibition on "Sorolla and America," in Madrid.

The expansion of projects on the internet will continue to be worked on, as it is believed to be the fastest and most effective way to reach a large audience anywhere in the world. The development of a website dedicated to History should especially be pointed out as it will integrate all of the publications on this subject that the foundation has edited over the past twenty years, as well as other sections of related topics.

The year 2012 marked the launch of the educational website "Educa tu mundo" which makes educational materials available to students, their families and teaching professionals, with an attractive and fun approach that includes the game "Prevenland."

The awarding of the FUNDACIÓN MAPFRE social prizes deserves special attention. This year they were awarded to the Alianza Trinacional para la Conservación del Golfo de Honduras association and to the doctors José María Segovia de Arana and Jaime Baselga García-Escudero.

Scientific research and the specialized training of professionals has continued to be driven through the awarding of more than 130 grants for more than €1.3 million. Furthermore, 47 scientific congresses and conferences were organized or participated in.

ROAD SAFETY INSTITUTE

Our Road Safety Institute's overall goal is to prevent and reduce the high rates of traffic accidents, through acts aimed specifically at risk groups (children, young people, adults and the elderly), and with a growing dedication to vulnerable groups: pedestrians and cyclists. Our road safety actions and programs are internationally renowned: currently we're carrying out activities in 21 countries, mainly in Ibero-America, Portugal, the Philippines and Turkey.

In fiscal year 2012, the Institute continued its actions in Spain in collaboration with public entities, educational institutions and children's driving tracks, paying special attention to children and young people, a group in which traffic accidents are the first cause of death.

Signing of the collaboration agreement with the Inter-American Development Bank

To that effect, activities have been carried out aimed at children, like the School Campaigns "Road Safety Education Trailer," "Child Road Safety" and "Road Safety Theater"; at teenagers through "Moped Safety Classroom" and "Road Safety in your hands"; at young adults through "Road Safety for Young Adults"; and at adults, through "Road Safety for Adults." The implication of specific groups was also driven, such as from professionals the medical field, with the "Doctors for Road Safety" program and the "Prevention and Road Safety through Health" online course; teachers, through the School Campaign and the "Road Safety in the Classroom" online training, in collaboration with the University of Salamanca; and companies through the "Road Safety in Companies" program, which offers the tools necessary to make plans and to audit Road Safety in companies and to facilitate necessary training on the subject.

Internationally, the Road Safety Institute continues to adapt the actions carried out in Spain to the reality on the streets of each country by adapting the subject and by collaborating in the training of people and institutions that carry out tasks related to Road Safety. The signing of the collaboration agreement with the Inter-American Development Bank should be mentioned, as it drives activities intended to prevent traffic accidents aimed at all risk groups in different Latin American countries. As a result of the signing of this agreement, the foundation is currently being incorporated into the UNRSC (UN Road Safety Collaboration).
