II. STATE OF PLAY

4. Coreper approved a negotiating mandate on 20 June 2018. The European Parliament adopted its report in plenary on 12 September 2018.
5. The Austrian Presidency then entered into negotiations with the European Parliament and the Commission with a view to a first-reading agreement. These negotiations resulted in a provisional agreement between the institutions on 13 December 2018.
6. Following subsequent technical finalisation, the final compromise text is set out in the annex to this note.
7. The Netherlands intends to abstain or vote against this final compromise text in the event that the European Parliament adopts it as its first-reading position and it is then submitted to the Council for its approval and adoption. The Netherlands will be able to make its precise voting intention known after the currently ongoing parliamentary proceedings in the Netherlands have been concluded.

III. CONCLUSION

8. Against this background, the Permanent Representatives Committee is invited to:
  - (a) approve the final compromise text regarding the Regulation of the European Parliament and of the Council on a pan-European Personal Pension Product (PEPP) as set out in the annex to this note, and
  - (b) confirm that the Presidency can indicate to the European Parliament that, should the European Parliament adopt its position at first reading as regards the Regulation of the European Parliament and of the Council on a pan-European Personal Pension Product (PEPP), as set out in the annex to this document, subject, where necessary, to revision of that text by the legal linguists of both institutions, the Council would approve the European Parliament's position and the act would be adopted in the wording which corresponds to the European Parliament's position.

OF THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND OF THE COUNCIL of ...

on a pan-European Personal Pension Product (PEPP)

(Text with EEA relevance)

THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND THE COUNCIL OF THE EUROPEAN UNION,

Having regard to the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union, and in particular Article 114 thereof,

Having regard to the proposal from the European Commission,

After transmission of the draft legislative act to the national parliaments,

Having regard to the opinion of the European Economic and Social Committee<sup>3</sup>,

Acting in accordance with the ordinary legislative procedure<sup>4</sup>,

Whereas:

- (1) Union households are amongst the highest savers in the world, but the bulk of those savings are held in bank accounts with short maturities. More investment into capital markets can help meet the challenges posed by population ageing and low interest rates.

<sup>4</sup> Position of the European Parliament of ... (not yet published in the Official Journal) and decision of the Council of ...

- (2) Old age pensions constitute an essential part of a retiree's income and for many people, adequate pension provision makes the difference between a comfortable old age and poverty; it is a precondition for exercising fundamental rights laid down in the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union, including in Article 25 on the rights of the elderly which states: "The Union recognises and respects the rights of the elderly to lead a life of dignity and independence and to participate in social and cultural life".
- (3) The Union is facing several challenges, including demographic challenges because of the fact that Europe is an ageing continent. In addition, career patterns, the labour market and the distribution of wealth are undergoing radical changes, not least as a result of the digital revolution.
- (4) A substantial part of old age pensions is provided under public schemes. Notwithstanding the exclusive national competence regarding the organisation of pension systems as determined by the Treaties, income adequacy and financial sustainability of national pension systems are crucial to the stability of the Union as a whole. By channelling more of Europeans' savings from cash and bank deposits to longer-term investment products, such as voluntary pension products with a long-term retirement nature, the impact would therefore be beneficial both for individuals (who would benefit from higher returns and improved pension adequacy) and for the broader economy.
- (5) In 2015, 11,3 million Union citizens of working age (20 to 64 years old) were residing in a Member State other than the Member State of their citizenship and 1,3 million Union citizens were working in a Member State other than their Member State of residence.
- (6) A portable pan-European Personal Pension Product (PEPP) with a long-term retirement nature will increase its attractiveness as a product, particularly to young people and mobile workers, and will help to further facilitate the right of Union citizens to live and work across the Union.

- (7) Personal pensions are important in linking long-term savers with long-term investment opportunities. A larger, European market for personal pensions will support the supply of funds for institutional investors and investment into the real economy.
- (8) This Regulation enables the creation of a personal pension product which will have a long-term retirement nature and will take into account environmental, social and governance (ESG) factors as referred to in the United Nations-supported Principles for Responsible Investment insofar as possible, will be simple, safe, reasonably-priced, transparent, consumer-friendly and portable Union-wide and complements the existing systems in the Member States.
- (9) Currently, the internal market for personal pension products does not function smoothly. In some Member States there is not yet a market for pension products. In others, personal pension products are available, but there is a high degree of fragmentation between national markets. As a result, personal pension products have only a limited degree of portability. This can result in difficulties for individuals to make use of their basic freedoms. For instance, they may be prevented from taking up a job or retiring in another Member State. In addition, the possibility for providers to use the freedom of establishment and the freedom to provide services is hampered by the lack of standardisation of existing personal pension products.
- (10) As the internal market for personal pensions is fragmented and diverse, the impact of PEPPs might be very different across Member States, and the target audience might be equally varied. In some Member States PEPP might offer solutions for people who do not currently have access to adequate provisions. In other Member States the PEPP could broaden the consumer choice, or offer solutions to mobile citizens. However, the PEPP should not aim at replacing existing national pension systems, since it is an additional and complementary personal pension product.

- (11) The capital markets union (CMU) will help mobilise capital in Europe and channel it to all companies, including small and medium enterprises, infrastructure and long-term sustainable projects that need it to expand and create jobs. One of the main objectives of the CMU is to increase investment and choices for retail investors by putting European savings to better use. For this purpose, a PEPP will represent a step forward for the enhancement of the capital markets integration due to its support to the long-term financing of the real economy taking into account the long-term retirement nature of the product and the sustainability of investments.
- (12) As announced in the Commission's Action Plan on building a CMU of 30 September 2015, "the Commission will assess the case for a policy framework to establish a successful European market for simple, efficient and competitive personal pensions, and determine whether EU legislation is required to underpin this market."

- (13) In the resolution of the European Parliament of 19 January 2016 on stocktaking and challenges of the EU Financial Services Regulation: impact and the way forward towards a more efficient and effective EU framework for Financial Regulation and a Capital Markets Union<sup>5</sup>, the European Parliament stressed that "an environment must be fostered that stimulates financial product innovation, creating more diversity and benefits for the real economy and providing enhanced incentives for investments, and that may also contribute to the delivery of adequate, safe and sustainable pensions, such as, for example, the development of a pan-European Pension Product (PEPP), with a simple transparent design".
- (14) In its conclusions of 28 June 2016, the European Council called for "swift and determined progress to ensure easier access to finance for business and to support investment in the real economy by moving forward with the Capital Markets Union agenda".
- (15) In the Communication of the Commission of 14 September 2016 Capital Markets Union – Accelerating Reform, the Commission announced that it "will consider proposals for a simple, efficient and competitive EU personal pension product [...] Options under consideration include a possible legislative proposal which could be tabled in 2017."
- (16) In the Communication of the Commission of 8 June 2017 Mid-Term Review of the Capital Markets Union Action Plan, the Commission announced "a legislative proposal on a pan-European Personal Pension Product (PEPP) by end June 2017. This will lay the foundations for a safer, more cost-efficient and transparent market in affordable and voluntary personal pension savings that can be managed on a pan-European scale. It will meet the needs of people wishing to enhance the adequacy of their retirement savings, address the demographical challenge, complement the existing pension products and schemes, and support the cost-efficiency of personal pensions by offering good opportunities for long-term investment of pension savings".
- (17) The development of a PEPP will contribute to increasing choices for retirement saving, especially for mobile workers, and establish an Union market for PEPP providers. It should, however, only be complementary to public pension systems.

- (18) Financial education can support the understanding and awareness of households' saving choices in the area of voluntary personal pension products. Savers should also have a fair chance to fully grasp the risks and the features related to a pan-European pension product.
- (19) A legislative framework for a PEPP will lay the foundations for a successful market in affordable and voluntary retirement-related investments that can be managed on a pan-European scale. By complementing the existing statutory and occupational pension schemes and products, it will contribute to meeting the needs of people wishing to enhance the adequacy of their retirement savings, addressing the demographic challenge and providing a powerful new source of private capital for long-term investment. This framework will not replace or harmonise existing national personal pension products or schemes, nor will it affect existing national statutory and occupational pension schemes and products.
- (20) A PEPP is an individual non- occupational pension product subscribed to voluntarily by a PEPP saver in view of retirement. Because a PEPP should provide for long-term capital accumulation, possibilities for the early withdrawal of capital should be limited and might be penalised.
- (21) This Regulation harmonises a set of core features for the PEPP, which concern key elements such as distribution, minimum content of contracts, investment policy, provider switching, or cross-border provision and portability. The harmonisation of those core features will improve the level playing field for personal pension providers at large and help boost the completion of the CMU and the integration of the internal market for personal pensions. It will lead to the creation of a largely standardised pan-European product, available in all Member States, empowering consumers to make full use of the internal market by transferring their pension rights abroad and offering a broader choice between different types of providers, including in a cross-border way. As a result of fewer barriers to the provision of pension services across borders, a PEPP will increase competition between providers on a pan-European basis and create economies of scale that should benefit savers.

- (22) Article 114 of the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union (TFEU) allows the adoption of acts both in the shape of Regulations or Directives. The adoption of a Regulation has been preferred as it would become directly applicable in all Member States. Therefore, a Regulation would allow a quicker uptake of the PEPP and contribute more rapidly to address the need for more pension savings and investments in the CMU context. Since this Regulation is harmonising the core features of the PEPPs, they do not have to be subject to specific national rules, so a Regulation appears better suited than a Directive in this case. On the contrary, the features which are out of the scope of the Regulation (e.g. accumulation phase conditions) are subject to national rules.
- (23) This Regulation should lay down uniform rules on the registration, provision, distribution and supervision of PEPP. PEPP should be subject to the provisions in this Regulation, relevant sectorial Union law as well as the corresponding delegated and implementing acts. In addition, the laws adopted by Member States in implementation of sectorial Union law apply. If not already covered by this Regulation or by sectorial Union law, the respective laws of Member States apply. A PEPP should also be subject to a contract concluded between the PEPP saver and the PEPP provider (the ‘PEPP contract’). There is a set of key characteristics of the product that should be included in the PEPP contract. This Regulation should be without prejudice to the Union rules on private international law, in particular rules related to court jurisdiction and applicable law. This Regulation should also be without prejudice to national contractual, social, labour and tax law.
- (24) This Regulation should make clear that the PEPP contract concluded between the PEPP saver and the PEPP provider has to comply with all applicable rules. Moreover, the PEPP contract should set the rights and obligations of the parties and include a set of key characteristics of the product. A PEPP contract might also be concluded by the representative of a group of PEPP savers, such as an independent savers association, acting on behalf of a group of PEPP savers provided that this is done in compliance with this Regulation and applicable national law and that PEPP savers subscribing in this way obtain the same information and advice as PEPP savers concluding a PEPP contract either directly with a PEPP provider or through a PEPP distributor.

- (25) PEPP providers should have access to the whole Union market with one single product registration granted on the basis of a single set of rules. In order to market a product under the designation “PEPP”, applicant PEPP providers should apply for registration to their competent authorities. This Regulation does not prevent registration of an existing personal pension product which fulfils the conditions laid down by this Regulation. Competent authorities should take a decision for registration if the applicant PEPP provider has provided all the necessary information and if suitable arrangements to comply with the requirements of this Regulation are in place. After a decision for registration has been taken by competent authorities, they should notify the European Supervisory Authority (European Insurance and Occupational Pensions Authority (EIOPA) established by Regulation (EU) No 1094/2010 of the European Parliament and of the Council<sup>6</sup> accordingly to register the PEPP provider and the PEPP in the central public register. Such registration should be valid across the entire Union. In order to ensure effective supervision of compliance with the uniform requirements laid down in this Regulation, any subsequent modifications to the information and documents provided in the registration procedure should be immediately notified to the competent authorities and to EIOPA, where applicable.
- (26) A central public register should be created by EIOPA to contain information about the PEPPs that have been registered and could be provided and distributed in the Union, as well as about the PEPP providers and a list of Member States in which the PEPP is offered. Where PEPP providers are not distributing PEPP within the territory of a Member State but are able to open a sub-account for that Member State in order to ensure the portability for their PEPP customers, in that register there should be also information about the Member States for which the PEPP provider offers sub-accounts.

- (27) The way in which institutions for occupational retirement provision (IORPs) as referred to in Directive (EU) 2016/2341 of the European Parliament and of the Council<sup>7</sup> are organised and regulated varies significantly between Member States. In some Member States, those institutions are only allowed to carry out occupational pension activities whereas in other Member States, those institutions, including the authorised entities responsible for operating them and acting on their behalf, where IORPs do not have legal personality, are allowed to carry out occupational and personal pension activities. This has not only lead to different organisational structures of IORPs but is also accompanied by different supervision on national level. In particular, prudential supervision of IORPs which are authorised to provide occupational and personal pension activities is broader than of those IORPs which only carry out occupational pension activities. In order not to jeopardise financial stability and to take into account the different organisational structure and supervision, only those IORPs which are also authorised and supervised to provide also personal pension products pursuant to national law should be allowed to provide PEPPs. Moreover and to further safeguard financial stability, all assets and liabilities corresponding to PEPP provision business should be ring-fenced, without any possibility to transfer them to the other retirement provision business of the institution. IORPs that provide PEPPs should also at all times comply with the relevant standards set by Directive (EU) 2016/2341, including the more detailed investment rules laid down by the Member States where they are registered or authorised in accordance with Directive (EU) 2016/2341 when transposing that Directive, and the provisions of the system of governance. As with other PEPP providers, when this Regulation lays down more stringent provisions, the latter apply.
- (28) The single PEPP passport will ensure the creation of a single market for PEPP.

<sup>7</sup> Directive (EU) 2016/2341 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 14 December 2016 on the activities and supervision of institutions for occupational retirement provision (IORPs) (OJ L 354, 23.12.2016, p. 37).

- (29) PEPP providers should be able to distribute PEPPs that they have manufactured and PEPP that they have not manufactured provided that this would be in compliance with the relevant sectorial law. PEPP distributors should be entitled to distribute PEPPs which they have not manufactured. PEPP distributors should distribute only those products for which they have the appropriate knowledge and competence in accordance with the relevant sectorial law.
- (30) Advice should compulsorily be given to PEPP savers by PEPP providers or PEPP distributors prior to the conclusion of the PEPP contract taking into account the long-term retirement nature of the product, the individual demands and needs of the PEPP saver and the limited redeemability. Advice should particularly aim at informing a PEPP saver about the features of the investment options, the level of capital protection and the types of out-payments.
- (31) PEPP providers may provide and PEPP distributors may distribute PEPP within the territory of a host Member State under the freedom to provide services or the freedom of establishment after opening of a sub-account for this host Member State. In order to ensure a high quality of service and effective consumer protection, home and host Member States should closely cooperate in the enforcement of the obligations set out in this Regulation. Where PEPP providers and PEPP distributors pursue business in different Member States under the freedom to provide services, the competent authorities of the home Member State should be responsible for ensuring compliance with the obligations set out in this Regulation, because of their closer links with the PEPP provider. In order to ensure fair sharing of responsibilities between the competent authorities from the home and the host Member States, if the competent authorities of a host Member State become aware of any infringement of obligations occurring within their territory, they should inform the competent authorities of the home Member State which should then be obliged to take the appropriate measures. Moreover, the competent authorities of the host Member State should be entitled to intervene if the home Member State fails to take appropriate measures or if the measures taken are insufficient.

- (32) The competent authorities of the Member States should have at their disposal all means necessary to ensure the orderly pursuit of business by PEPP providers and PEPP distributors throughout the Union, whether pursued in accordance with the freedom of establishment or the freedom to provide services. In order to ensure the effectiveness of supervision, all actions taken by the competent authorities should be proportionate to the nature, scale and complexity of the risks inherent in the business of a particular provider or distributor.
- (33) The pan-European dimension of the PEPP can be developed not only at the level of the provider, through the possibilities for its cross-border activity, but also at the level of the PEPP saver – through the portability of the PEPP and the switching service, thus contributing to the safeguarding of personal pension rights of persons exercising their right to free movement under Articles 21 and 45 TFEU. Portability involves the PEPP saver changing residence to another Member State without changing PEPP providers, whereas the switching of PEPP providers does not necessarily involve a change of residence.
- (34) A PEPP should comprise national sub-accounts, each of them accommodating personal pension product features allowing that contributions to the PEPP or out-payments qualify for incentives if available in the Member States in relation to which a sub-account is made available by PEPP provider. The sub-account should be used to keep a record of the contributions made during the accumulation period and the out-payments made during the decumulation period in compliance with the law of the Member State for which the sub-account has been opened. At the level of the PEPP saver, a first sub-account should be created upon the conclusion of a PEPP contract.

- (35) In order to allow a smooth transition for PEPP providers, the obligation of providing PEPPs comprising sub-accounts for at least two Member States should apply ... [three years after the date of entry into force of this Regulation]. Upon launching a PEPP, the PEPP provider should provide information on which sub-accounts are immediately available, in order to avoid a possible misleading of PEPP savers. If a PEPP saver moves to another Member State and if no sub-account for that Member State is available, the PEPP provider should make it possible for the PEPP saver to switch immediately and free of charge to another PEPP provider which provides a sub-account for that Member State. The PEPP saver could also continue to contribute to the sub-account where contributions were made before changing the residence.
- (36) Taking into account the long-term retirement nature of the PEPP and the administrative burden involved, PEPP providers and PEPP distributors should provide clear, easy to understand, and adequate information to prospective PEPP savers and PEPP beneficiaries to support their decision-making about their retirement. For the same reason, PEPP providers and PEPP distributors should equally ensure a high level of transparency throughout the various phases of a PEPP including pre-contractual stage, conclusion of the contract, accumulation phase (including pre-retirement) and decumulation phase. In particular, information concerning accrued pension entitlements, projected levels of PEPP retirement benefits, risks and guarantees, the integration of ESG factors and costs should be given. Where projected levels of PEPP retirement benefits are based on economic scenarios, that information should also include an unfavourable scenario, which should be extreme but realistic.
- (37) Before concluding a PEPP contract, prospective PEPP savers should be given all the necessary information to make an informed choice. Prior to the conclusion of the PEPP contract, retirement-related demands and needs should be specified and advice should be provided.

- (38) In order to ensure optimal product transparency, PEPP providers should draw up the PEPP key information document (PEPP KID) for the PEPPs that they manufacture before the product can be distributed to PEPP savers. They should also be responsible for the accuracy of the PEPP KID. The PEPP KID should replace and adapt the key information document for packaged retail and insurance-based investment products under Regulation (EU) No 1286/2014 of the European Parliament and of the Council<sup>8</sup> which would not have to be provided for PEPP. A stand-alone PEPP KID should be drawn up for the Basic PEPP. Where the provider offers alternative investment options, a generic KID for the alternative investment options which could also contain references to other documents should also be provided. Alternatively, where the information required on the alternative investment options cannot be provided within a single stand-alone KID, a stand-alone KID for every alternative investment option should be provided. However, this should only be the case if the provision of a generic KID for the alternative investment options would not be in the interest of the PEPP customers. Therefore, when the competent authorities assess the compliance of the PEPP KID with this Regulation, they should ensure optimal comparability of different investment options, if applicable, taking into account in particular up to date knowledge of behavioural analysis to avoid any cognitive bias caused by the presentation of the information.
- (39) In order to ensure widespread dissemination and availability of PEPP KIDs, this Regulation should provide for the publication by the PEPP provider of the PEPP KIDs on its website. The PEPP provider should publish the PEPP KID for each Member State where the PEPP is distributed under the freedom to provide services or the freedom of establishment containing the specific information for the conditions related to accumulation and to the decumulation phase for that Member State.

- (40) Personal pension product calculators are already being developed at national level. However, in order for the calculators to be as useful as possible to consumers, they should cover the costs and fees charged by various PEPP providers, together with any further costs or fees charged by intermediaries or other parts of the investment chain not already included by the PEPP providers.
- (41) The details of the information to be included in the PEPP KID and the presentation of this information should be further harmonised through regulatory technical standards taking into account existing and ongoing research into consumer behaviour, including results from testing the effectiveness of different ways of presenting information with consumers. Those draft regulatory technical standards should be developed by EIOPA after consulting the other European supervisory authorities (ESAs), ESAs comprising EIOPA, the European Banking Authority and the European Securities and Markets Authority, specifying the details of the presentation, including the length and the content of the information to be included in the PEPP KID, the methodology underpinning the presentation of risk and reward of the PEPP, the methodology for the calculation of costs, including the specification of summary indicators and requirements for layering. When developing the draft regulatory technical standards, EIOPA should take into account the various possible types of PEPPs, the long-term nature of the PEPP, the capabilities of PEPP savers, and the features of the PEPPs. Before submitting the draft regulatory technical standards to the Commission, consumer testing and industry testing with real data should take place.
- (42) The PEPP KID should be clearly distinguishable and separate from any marketing materials.

- (43) PEPP providers should draw up a PEPP benefit statement addressed to PEPP savers, in order to present them with key personal and generic data about the PEPP and to ensure up to date information on it. The PEPP benefit statement should be clear and comprehensive and should contain relevant and appropriate information to facilitate the understanding of pension entitlements over time and across pension products and serve labour mobility. The PEPP benefit statement should also contain key information on the investment policy relating to ESG-factors and should indicate where and how PEPP savers can obtain supplementary information on the integration of ESG factors. The PEPP benefit statement should be provided annually to the PEPP saver.
- (44) PEPP providers should inform PEPP savers two months before the dates upon which PEPP savers have the possibility to modify their pay-out options about the upcoming start of the decumulation phase, the possible forms of out-payments and the possibility to modify the form of out-payments. Where more than one sub-account has been opened, the PEPP saver should be informed about the possible start of decumulation of each sub-account.
- (45) During the decumulation phase, PEPP beneficiaries should continue to receive information on their benefits and corresponding pay-out options. This is particularly important when a significant level of investment risk is borne by PEPP beneficiaries in the pay-out phase.
- (46) In order to protect adequately the rights of PEPP savers and PEPP beneficiaries, PEPP providers should be able to opt for an asset allocation that suits the precise nature and duration of their liabilities, including those having a long-term horizon. Therefore, efficient supervision is required as well as an approach to investment rules that allows PEPP providers sufficient flexibility to decide on the most secure and efficient investment policy, while obliging them to act prudently and in the best long-term interests of PEPP savers as a whole. Compliance with the prudent person rule therefore requires an investment policy geared to the customers' structure of the PEPP provider.

- (47) By setting the prudent person rule as the underlying principle for capital investment and making it possible for PEPP providers to operate across borders, the redirection of savings into the sector of personal retirement provision is encouraged, thereby contributing to economic and social progress. The prudent person rule should also take into explicit consideration the role played by ESG factors in the investment process.
- (48) This Regulation should ensure an appropriate level of investment freedom for PEPP providers. As very long-term investors with low liquidity risks, PEPP providers are in a position to contribute to the development of the CMU by investing in non-liquid assets such as shares and in other instruments that have a long-term economic profile and are not traded on regulated markets, multilateral trading facilities (MTFs) or organised trading facilities (OTFs) within prudent limits. They can also benefit from the advantages of international diversification. Investments in shares in currencies other than those of the liabilities and in other instruments that have a long-term economic profile and are not traded on regulated markets, MTFs or OTFs should therefore not be restricted, in line with the prudent person rule so as to protect the interest of PEPP savers and PEPP beneficiaries, except on prudential grounds.

- (49) In the context of deepening the CMU, the understanding of what constitutes instruments with a long-term economic profile is broad. Such instruments are non-transferable securities and therefore do not have access to the liquidity of secondary markets. They often require fixed term commitments which restrict their marketability and should be understood to include participation and debt instruments in, and loans provided to, non-listed undertakings. Non-listed undertakings include infrastructure projects, unlisted companies seeking growth, real estate or other assets that could be suitable for long-term investment purposes. Low carbon and climate resilient infrastructure projects are often non-listed assets and rely on long-term credits for project financing. Considering the long-term nature of their liabilities, PEPP providers are encouraged to allocate a sufficient part of their asset portfolio to sustainable investments in the real economy with long-term economic benefits, in particular to infrastructure projects and corporates.
- (50) ESG factors, are important for the investment policy and risk management systems of PEPP providers. PEPP providers should be encouraged to consider such factors in investment decisions and to take into account how they form part of their risk management system in order to avoid “stranded assets”. The information on ESG factors should be available to EIOPA, to the competent authorities and to PEPP savers.

- (51) One of the objectives of regulating PEPPs is to create a safe, cost-friendly long-term retirement savings product. Because the investments concerning personal pension products are long-term, special regard should be given to the long-term consequences of asset allocation. In particular, ESG factors should be taken into account. PEPP savings should be invested taking into account ESG factors such as those set out in the Union's climate and sustainability objectives as set out in the Paris Agreement on Climate Change (Paris Agreement), the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals, and the United Nations Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights.
- (52) In ensuring compliance with their obligation to develop an investment policy in accordance with the prudent person rule, PEPP providers should be prevented from investing in high-risk and non-cooperative jurisdictions identified in the applicable Council's conclusions on the list of high-risk and non-cooperative jurisdictions for tax purposes, nor in a high-risk third country with strategic deficiencies identified by the applicable Commission delegated regulation adopted on the basis of Article 9 of Directive (EU) 2015/849.
- (53) In view of the long-term retirement objective of the PEPP, the investment options granted to the PEPP savers should be framed, covering the elements which allow investors to make an investment decision, including the number of investment options they can choose from. After the initial choice made upon the subscription of a PEPP, the PEPP saver should have the possibility to modify that choice after a minimum of five years from the subscription of a PEPP or in case of subsequent modification, from the most recent modification of the investment option, so that sufficient stability is offered to providers for their long-term investment strategy whilst at the same time investor protection is ensured. However, it should be possible for PEPP providers to allow PEPP savers to modify the chosen investment option more frequently.

- (54) The Basic PEPP should be a safe product and should act as a default investment option. It could take the form of either a risk-mitigation technique consistent with the objective of allowing the PEPP saver to recoup the capital, or a guarantee on the capital invested. A risk-mitigation technique consistent with the objective to allow the PEPP saver to recoup the capital could be a conservative investment strategy or a life-cycle strategy which progressively reduces the overall risk exposure over time. Guarantees provided under the default investment option should at least cover the contributions during the accumulation phase after deduction of all fees and charges. Guarantees could also cover the fees and charges and could provide for full or partial coverage of inflation. A guarantee on the capital invested should be due at the start of the decumulation phase and during the decumulation phase, where applicable.

- (55) In order to guarantee PEPP savers cost-efficiency and a sufficient performance, the costs and fees for the Basic PEPP should be limited to a fixed percentage of the accumulated capital. While that limit should be fixed at 1 % of the accumulated capital, it would be appropriate to further specify the types of costs and fees to be taken into account by regulatory technical standards, in order to ensure a level playing field between different PEPP providers and different types of PEPPs with their particular cost and fee structures. In drawing up the draft regulatory technical standards, EIOPA should, in particular, consider the long-term nature of the PEPP, the different types of PEPPs and the cost-relevant factors linked to their specific features, so as to ensure a fair and equal treatment of the different PEPP providers and their products while taking into account the character of the Basic PEPP as a simple, cost-efficient and transparent product providing a sufficient long-term real investment return. Moreover, with the aim of preserving the long-term and retirement nature of the product, the type of out-payments, in particular with respect to lifelong annuities, should be carefully assessed. Within that framework, in order to ensure that PEPP providers offering a capital guarantee benefit of a level playing field with other providers, EIOPA should duly take into account the structure of costs and fees. Furthermore, the percentage values for costs and fees should be regularly revised in order to ensure their continued adequacy taking into account any changes in the level of costs. In order to ensure continued cost-efficiency and to protect PEPP customers from overly burdensome cost structures, the Commission should be empowered to adopt delegated acts amending the percentage value, taking into account its reviews, in particular the actual level and changes in the actual level of costs and fees and the impact of the cost cap on the availability of PEPPs, and appropriate market access of different PEPP providers providing different kinds of PEPPs.
- (56) The competent authorities should exercise their powers having as their prime objectives the protection of the rights of PEPP savers and PEPP beneficiaries and the stability and soundness of PEPP providers.

(57) Where the PEPP provider is an IORP or an EU Alternative Investment Fund Manager (EU AIFM), it should appoint a depositary in relation to the safekeeping of the assets corresponding to the PEPP provision business. Additional safeguards are needed in relation to the entity acting as a depositary and its functions as currently the rules set out in relation to the depositary in Directive 2011/61/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council<sup>9</sup> are targeted to funds marketed only to professional investors (with the exception of European long-term investment funds under Regulation (EU) 2015/760 of the European Parliament and of the Council<sup>10</sup>, marketed to retail investors and the sectorial law applicable to IORPs does not require appointment of a depositary in all cases. In order to ensure the highest level of investor protection in relation to the safekeeping of assets corresponding to the PEPP provision business, this Regulation requires IORPs and EU AIFM providing PEPP to follow the rules of Directive 2009/65/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council<sup>11</sup> as regards to the appointment of the depositary, the execution of its tasks and its oversight duties.

- (58) Transparency and fairness of costs and fees is essential to develop PEPP savers' trust and allow them to make informed choices. Accordingly, the use of non-transparent pricing methods should be prohibited.
- (59) In order to fulfil the objectives set out in this Regulation, the power to adopt acts in accordance with Article 290 TFEU should be delegated to the Commission in respect of specifying the conditions for the exercise of intervention powers by EIOPA and the competent authorities. It is of particular importance that the Commission carry out appropriate consultations during its preparatory work, including at expert level, and that those consultations be conducted in accordance with the principles laid down in the Interinstitutional Agreement of 13 April 2016 on Better Law-Making<sup>12</sup>. In particular, to ensure equal participation in the preparation of delegated acts, the European Parliament and the Council receive all documents at the same time as Member States' experts, and their experts systematically have access to meetings of Commission expert groups dealing with the preparation of delegated acts.
- (60) Without prejudice to the right of PEPP customers to bring action in the courts, easily accessible, adequate, independent, impartial, transparent and effective alternative dispute resolution (ADR) procedures should be established between PEPP providers or PEPP distributors and PEPP customers for resolving disputes arising from the rights and obligations set out in this Regulation.
- (61) With a view to establishing an efficient and effective dispute resolution procedure, PEPP providers and PEPP distributors should put in place an effective complaints procedure that can be followed by their customers before the dispute is referred to be resolved in an ADR procedure or before a court. The complaints procedure should contain short and clearly defined timeframes within which the PEPP provider or PEPP distributor should reply to a complaint. ADR bodies should have sufficient capacity to engage in an adequate and efficient way in cross-border cooperation with regard to disputes concerning rights and obligations pursuant to this Regulation.

- (62) In order to find better conditions for their investments, thus also stimulating the competition among PEPP providers, PEPP savers should have the right to switch to a different provider located in the same or another Member State during the accumulation phase, through a clear, quick and safe procedure. PEPP providers should not be obliged to provide the switching service for PEPPs, where savers are receiving out-payments in the form of lifetime annuities. During switching, the transferring PEPP provider should transfer the corresponding amounts or, where applicable, assets-in-kind from the PEPP account and close it. The PEPP saver should conclude a contract with the receiving PEPP provider for the opening of the new PEPP account. The new PEPP account should have the same sub-account structure as the former PEPP account.
- (63) During the switching service, PEPP savers may choose to transfer of assets-in-kind only when the switching is between PEPP providers (such as investment firms or other eligible providers holding an additional license) engaged in portfolio management for PEPP savers. A written consent of the receiving provider is needed in this case.. In the case of collective investment management, the switching of assets-in-kind is not possible as there is no separation of assets for every PEPP saver.
- (64) The switching process should be straightforward for the PEPP saver. Accordingly, the receiving PEPP provider should be responsible for initiating and managing the process on behalf of the PEPP saver and upon his request. PEPP providers should be able to use additional means, such as a technical solution, on a voluntary basis when establishing the switching service. Considering the pan-European nature of the product, PEPP savers should be able to switch immediately and free of charge when no sub-account is available in the Member State the PEPP saver moves to.
- (65) Before giving the authorisation for switching, the PEPP saver should be informed of all the steps of the procedure and costs necessary to complete the switching, in order to enable the PEPP saver to make an informed decision about the switching service.

- (66) The cooperation of the transferring PEPP provider is necessary in order for the switching to be successful. Therefore, the receiving PEPP provider should be provided by the transferring PEPP provider with all the information necessary to reinstate the payments on the other PEPP account. However, such information should not exceed what is necessary in order to carry out the switching.
- (67) PEPP savers should not be subject to financial losses, including charges and interest, caused by any mistakes made by either of the PEPP providers involved in the switching process. In particular, PEPP savers should not bear any financial loss deriving from the payment of additional fees, interest or other charges as well as fines, penalties or any other type of financial detriment due to delay in the execution of the switching. As capital protection should be ensured at the start of the decumulation phase and during the decumulation phase, where applicable, the transferring PEPP provider should not be obliged to ensure the capital protection or guarantee at the moment of switching. The PEPP provider might also decide to ensure the capital protection or provide the guarantee at the moment of switching.
- (68) PEPP savers should have the possibility to make an informed decision before switching. The receiving PEPP provider should comply with all the distribution and information requirements, including the provision of PEPP KID, advice and adequate information regarding the costs related to the switching and the possible negative implications on the capital protection when a PEPP with a guarantee is being switched. Costs for the switching applied by the transferring PEPP provider should be kept to an amount that does not constitute an obstacle to mobility and in any case, be limited to 0,5 % of the corresponding amounts or monetary value of the assets in kind to be transferred.

- (69) PEPP savers should be given the freedom to decide upon subscription of a PEPP and when opening a new sub-account about their pay-out choice (annuities, lump sum, or other) in the decumulation phase, but with a possibility to revise their choice one year before starting decumulation, at the start of the decumulation and at the moment of switching, in order to be able to best adapt their pay-out choice to their needs when they near retirement. If the PEPP provider makes available more than one form of out-payments, the PEPP saver could opt for a different pay-out choice for each sub-account opened in his PEPP account.
- (70) PEPP providers should be allowed to make available to PEPP savers a wide range of decumulation options. That approach would achieve the goal of enhanced take-up of the PEPP through increased flexibility and choice for PEPP savers. It would allow providers to design their PEPPs in the most cost-effective way. It is coherent with other EU policies and politically feasible, as it preserves enough flexibility for Member States to decide about which decumulation options they wish to encourage. In line with the long-term retirement nature of the product, it should be possible for Member States to adopt measures to privilege particular forms of out-payments such as quantitative limits for lump sum payments to further encourage lifelong annuities and drawdown payments.

- (71) In view of the pan-European character of the PEPP, there is a need to ensure a consistent high level of PEPP saver protection throughout the internal market. This requires adequate tools to effectively combat infringements and prevent consumer detriment. Therefore, the powers of EIOPA and the competent authorities should be complemented by an explicit mechanism for prohibiting or restricting the marketing, distribution or sale of any PEPP giving rise to serious concerns regarding PEPP saver protection, including with respect to the long-term retirement nature of the product, the orderly functioning and integrity of financial market, or the stability of the whole or part of the financial system, together with appropriate coordination and contingency powers for EIOPA. The powers of EIOPA should be based on Article 9(5) of Regulation (EU) No 1094/2010 so as to ensure that such mechanisms for intervention can be applied in the case of significant PEPP saver protection concerns, including with respect to the particular long-term retirement character of the PEPP. Where the conditions are met, the relevant authority should be able to impose a prohibition or restriction on a precautionary basis before a PEPP has been marketed, distributed or sold to PEPP savers. Those powers do not relieve the PEPP provider of its responsibility to comply with all the relevant requirements under this Regulation.
- (72) Full transparency on costs and fees related to the investment in a PEPP should be guaranteed. A level-playing field between providers would be established, whilst ensuring consumer protection. Comparative information would be available between different products, thus incentivising competitive pricing.

- (73) Although the ongoing supervision of PEPP providers is to be exercised by the respective national competent authorities, EIOPA should coordinate the supervision with regards to PEPPs, in order to guarantee the consistent application of a unified supervisory methodology, contributing in that way to the pan-European and long-term retirement nature of the personal pension product.
- (74) In order to strengthen consumer rights and to facilitate access to a complaints procedure, PEPP savers should be able, either individually or collectively, to submit complaints to the competent authority of their Member State of residence, regardless of where the infringement occurred.

- (75) EIOPA should cooperate with national competent authorities and facilitate cooperation and consistency between them. In this respect, EIOPA should play a role in the power of national competent authorities to apply supervisory measures by providing evidence about PEPP-related infringements. EIOPA should also provide binding mediation in the event of disagreement between competent authorities in cross-border situations.
- (76) In order to ensure compliance with this Regulation by PEPP providers and PEPP distributors and to ensure that they are subject to similar treatment across the Union, administrative penalties and other measures which are effective, proportionate and dissuasive should be provided.
- (77) In line with the Communication of the Commission of 8 December 2010 "Reinforcing sanctioning regimes in the financial services sector" and in order to ensure that the requirements of this Regulation are fulfilled, it is important that Member States take necessary steps to ensure that infringements of this Regulation are subject to appropriate administrative penalties and other measures.
- (78) Although Member States may lay down rules for administrative and criminal penalties for the same infringements, Member States should not be required to lay down rules for administrative penalties for the infringements of this Regulation which are subject to national criminal law. However, the maintenance of criminal penalties instead of administrative penalties for infringements of this Regulation should not reduce or otherwise affect the ability of competent authorities to cooperate, access and exchange information in a timely way with competent authorities in other Member States for the purposes of this Regulation, including after any referral of the relevant infringements to the competent judicial authorities for criminal prosecution.
- (79) Competent authorities should be empowered to impose pecuniary penalties which are sufficiently high to offset the actual or potential profits, and to be dissuasive even for larger financial undertakings and their managers.

- (80) In order to ensure a consistent application of penalties across the Union, the competent authorities should take into account all relevant circumstances when determining the type of administrative penalty or other measures and the level of administrative pecuniary penalties.
- (81) In order to ensure that decisions on infringements and penalties by competent authorities have a dissuasive effect on the public at large and to strengthen consumer protection by warning them about PEPPs distributed in infringement of this Regulation, those decisions should be published unless such disclosure jeopardises the stability of financial markets or an ongoing investigation.
- (82) In order to detect potential infringements, the competent authorities should have the necessary investigatory powers, and should establish effective mechanisms, to enable reporting of potential or actual infringements.
- (83) This Regulation should be without prejudice to any provisions in the laws of Member States in respect of criminal offences.

- (84) Any processing of personal data carried out within the framework of this Regulation, such as the exchange or transmission of personal data by the competent authorities or the processing of personal data by PEPP providers or PEPP distributors, should be undertaken in accordance with Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council (General Data Protection Regulation)<sup>13</sup> and Directive 2002/58/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council<sup>14</sup>. Any exchange or transmission of information by the ESAs should be undertaken in accordance with Regulation (EU) 2018/1725 of the European Parliament and of the Council<sup>15</sup>.
- (85) Given the sensitivity of personal financial data, strong data protection is of the utmost importance. Therefore it is recommended that data protection authorities are closely involved in the implementation and supervision of this Regulation.
- (86) The registration and notification procedure laid down in this Regulation should not replace any additional national procedure in place to have the possibility to benefit from the advantages and incentives fixed at national level.

<sup>15</sup> Regulation (EU) 2018/1725 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 23 October 2018 on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data by the Union institutions, bodies, offices and agencies and on the free movement of such data, and repealing Regulation (EC) No 45/2001 and Decision No 1247/2002/EC (OJ L 295, 21.11.2018, p. 39).

- (87) An evaluation of this Regulation is to be carried out, inter alia, by assessing market developments, such as the emergence of new types of PEPPs, as well as developments in other areas of Union law and the experiences of Member States. Such an evaluation should take account of the different aims and purposes of establishing a well- functioning PEPP-market, and in particular should evaluate whether this Regulation has resulted in more European citizens saving for sustainable and adequate pensions. The importance of minimum European standards for the supervision of PEPP providers also requires the evaluation of the PEPP providers in terms of compliance with this Regulation and the applicable sectorial law.
- (88) Given the possible long-term implications of this Regulation, it is essential to closely monitor developments during the initial phase of application. When carrying out the evaluation the Commission should also reflect the experiences of EIOPA, stakeholders and experts, and report to the European Parliament and to the Council any observations it might have.
- (89) This Regulation should ensure respect for fundamental rights and observe the principles recognised in particular by the Charter of the Fundamental Rights of the European Union, in particular the rights of the elderly to lead a life of dignity and independence and to participate in social and cultural life, the right to the protection of personal data, the right to property, the freedom to conduct a business, the principle of equality between men and women and the principle of a high level of consumer protection.
- (90) Since the objectives of this Regulation, namely to enhance PEPP saver protection and improve PEPP saver confidence in PEPPs, including where those products are distributed cross-border, cannot be sufficiently achieved by the Member States but can rather, by reason of its effects, be better achieved at Union level the Union may adopt measures, in accordance with principle of subsidiarity as set out in Article 5 of the Treaty on European Union. In accordance with the principle of proportionality, as set out in that Article, this Regulation does not go beyond what is necessary in order to achieve those objectives.

HAVE ADOPTED THIS REGULATION:

CHAPTER VII SWITCHING OF PEPP PROVIDERS

Article 52

Provision of the switching service

1. PEPP providers shall provide a switching service transferring, upon a request of the PEPP saver, the corresponding amounts or, where applicable, assets in kind in accordance with paragraph 3, from a PEPP account held with the transferring PEPP provider to a new PEPP account with the same sub-accounts opened with the receiving PEPP provider, with closing the former PEPP account.

When using the switching service, the transferring PEPP provider shall transfer all information linked to all sub-accounts of the former PEPP account, including reporting requirements, to the receiving PEPP provider. The receiving PEPP provider shall register that information in the corresponding sub-accounts.

The PEPP saver may request to switch to a PEPP provider established in the same Member State (domestic switching) or in a different Member State (cross-border switching). The PEPP saver may exercise the right to switch providers during the accumulation and the decumulation phase of the PEPP.

2. Notwithstanding paragraph 1, during the decumulation phase, PEPP providers shall not be obliged to provide a switching service for PEPPs, where savers are receiving out-payments in the form of lifetime annuities.
3. The PEPP saver may switch PEPP providers after a minimum of five years from the conclusion of the PEPP contract, and, in case of subsequent switching, after five years from the most recent switching, without prejudice to point (a) of Article 20(5). The PEPP provider may allow the PEPP saver to switch PEPP providers more frequently.

4. Where the switching is between PEPP providers engaged in individual portfolio management for PEPP savers, PEPP savers may choose to transfer assets in kind or corresponding amounts. In all other cases, only the transfer of corresponding amounts shall be allowed.

The written consent of the receiving PEPP provider shall be required where the PEPP saver requests a transfer of assets-in-kind.

The switching service

1. At the request of the PEPP saver, after the PEPP saver has made an informed decision based on the information received from the PEPP providers as defined in Article 56, the switching service shall be initiated by the receiving PEPP provider.
2. The request from the PEPP saver shall be drawn up in an official language of the Member State where the switching service is being initiated or in any other language agreed between the parties. In the request, the PEPP saver shall:

  - (b) in agreement with the receiving PEPP provider, specify the date from which payments are to be executed to the PEPP account opened with the receiving PEPP provider.

That date shall be at least two weeks after the date on which the receiving PEPP provider receives the documents transferred from the transferring PEPP provider pursuant to paragraph 4.

Member States may require the request from the PEPP saver to be in writing and that a copy of the accepted request is provided to the PEPP saver.

3. Within five working days from receipt of the request referred to in paragraph 2, the receiving PEPP provider shall request the transferring PEPP provider to carry out the tasks as referred to in paragraph 4.

4. Upon receipt of a request from the receiving PEPP provider, the transferring PEPP provider shall :

  - (d) transfer the corresponding amounts, or where applicable, assets-in-kind in accordance with Article 52(4), from the PEPP account to the new PEPP account opened with the receiving PEPP provider on the date specified by the PEPP saver in the request;
  - (e) close the PEPP account on the date specified by the PEPP saver if the PEPP saver has no outstanding obligations. The transferring PEPP provider shall immediately inform the PEPP saver where such outstanding obligations prevent the PEPP saver's account from being closed.

5. The receiving PEPP provider shall, as provided for in the request and to the extent that the information provided by the transferring PEPP provider or the PEPP saver enables the receiving PEPP provider to do so, make any necessary preparations to accept incoming payments and accept them with effect from the date specified by the PEPP saver in the request.

Article 54

Fees and charges connected with the switching service

1. PEPP savers shall be able to access free of charge their personal information held either by the transferring or by the receiving PEPP provider.

3. The total fees and charges applied by the transferring PEPP provider to the PEPP saver for the closure of the PEPP account held with it shall be limited to the actual administrative costs incurred by the PEPP provider and shall not exceed 0,5 % of the corresponding amounts or monetary value of the assets-in-kind to be transferred to the receiving PEPP provider.

Member States may set a lower percentage of the fees and charges as referred to in the first subparagraph and a different percentage when the provider allows PEPP savers to switch provider more frequently as referred to in Article 52(3).

The transferring PEPP provider shall not charge any additional fees or charges to the receiving PEPP provider.

2. Liability under paragraph 1 shall not apply in cases of abnormal and unforeseeable circumstances beyond the control of the PEPP provider pleading for the application of those circumstances, the consequences of which would have been unavoidable despite all efforts to the contrary, or where a PEPP provider is bound by other legal obligations covered by Union or national legislative acts.
3. Liability under paragraph 1 shall be established in accordance with the legal requirements applicable at national level.
4. The PEPP saver shall bear any risk of financial loss connected with the redemption in kind of the assets held in the PEPP account for the sake of their transfer from the transferring PEPP provider to the receiving PEPP provider as referred to in Article 52(4).
5. The transferring PEPP provider shall not be obliged to ensure capital protection or provide a guarantee at the moment of switching.

Article 56

Information about the switching service

1. PEPP providers shall give to PEPP savers the following information about the switching service in order to enable the PEPP saver to make an informed decision:

2. Such conditions may include in particular the setting of the minimum age for decumulation, of a maximum period before reaching the retirement age for joining a PEPP, as well as conditions for redemption before the minimum age for decumulation, notably in case of particular hardship.

Article 58

1. PEPP providers may make available to PEPP savers one or more of the following forms of out-payments:
  - (a) annuities;
  - (b) lump sum;
  - (c) drawdown payments;
  - (d) combinations of the above forms.
2. PEPP savers shall choose the form of out-payments for the decumulation phase when they conclude a PEPP contract and when they request an opening of a new sub-account. The form of out-payments may differ from sub-account to sub-account.

3. Without prejudice to paragraph 1 of this Article as well as to Articles 57 and 59, Member States may adopt measures to privilege particular forms of out-payments. Such measures may include quantitative limits for lump sum payments to further encourage the other forms of out-payments in paragraph 1 of this Article. Such quantitative limits shall only apply to the out-payments corresponding to the capital accumulated in the PEPP sub-account linked to the Member State whose legislation provides for quantitative limits on lump sums.
4. Member States may specify conditions under which advantages and incentives granted shall be repaid to them.

Article 59

Modifications of the forms of out-payments

1. If the PEPP provider provides different forms of out-payments, the PEPP saver shall be allowed to modify the form of out-payments of each opened sub-account:
  - (a) one year before the start of the decumulation phase;
  - (b) at the start of the decumulation phase;
  - (c) at the moment of switching.

The modification of the form of out-payments shall be free of charge for the PEPP saver.

2. Upon reception of a PEPP saver's request to change his form of out-payments, the PEPP provider shall provide the PEPP saver with information in a clear and understandable format about the financial implications of such change on the PEPP saver or PEPP beneficiary, in particular as regards any impact on the national incentives that might apply to the existing sub-accounts of the PEPP saver's PEPP.

Article 60

Retirement planning and advice on out-payments

1. For the Basic PEPP, at the start of the decumulation phase, the PEPP provider shall offer the PEPP saver personal retirement planning on the sustainable use of the capital accumulated in the PEPP sub-accounts, taking into account at least:

- (a) the value of the capital accumulated in the PEPP sub-accounts,
- (b) the total amount of other accrued retirement entitlements and
- (c) the long-term retirement-related demands and needs of the PEPP saver.

2. The retirement planning shall include a personal recommendation to the PEPP saver on his or her optimal form of out-payments unless there is only one alternative form of out-payments. If a lump-sum payment is not in line with the retirement-related needs of the PEPP saver, the advice shall be accompanied by a warning.

SUPERVISION

Supervision by the competent authorities and monitoring by EIOPA

1. The competent authorities of the PEPP provider shall supervise compliance with this Regulation on an ongoing basis and in accordance with the relevant sectoral supervisory regime and standards. They shall also be responsible for supervising compliance with the obligations set out in the rules or instruments of incorporation of the PEPP provider, and the adequacy of its arrangements and organisation with the tasks to be fulfilled when providing a PEPP.
2. EIOPA and competent authorities shall monitor personal pension products provided or distributed in order to verify that such products are designated "PEPP" or suggested that they are a PEPP only when they are registered under this Regulation.

Article 62

Powers of competent authorities

Each Member State shall ensure that the competent authorities have all supervisory and investigatory powers that are necessary for the exercise of their functions pursuant to this Regulation.

Article 63

Product intervention powers

1. A competent authority may prohibit or restrict in or from its Member State the marketing or distribution of a PEPP under the following conditions:
  - (a) the competent authority is satisfied that there are reasonable grounds to believe that the PEPP gives rise to significant or reiterated saver's protection concerns or poses a risk to the orderly functioning and integrity of financial markets or the stability of whole or part of the financial system within at least one Member State;
  - (b) the action is proportionate taking into account the nature of the risks identified, the level of sophistication of PEPP savers concerned and the likely effect of the action on PEPP savers who have concluded a PEPP contract;
  - (c) the competent authority has properly consulted competent authorities in other Member States that may be significantly affected by the action; and
  - (d) the action does not have a discriminatory effect on services or activities provided from another Member State.

Where the conditions set out in the first subparagraph are fulfilled, the competent authority may impose the prohibition or restriction on a precautionary basis before a PEPP has been marketed or distributed to PEPP savers. A prohibition or restriction may apply in circumstances, or be subject to exceptions, specified by the competent authority.

2. The competent authority shall not impose a prohibition or restriction under this Article unless, not less than one month before the measure is intended to take effect, it has notified all other competent authorities involved and EIOPA in writing or through another medium agreed between the authorities of the details of:
  - (a) the PEPP to which the proposed action relates;
  - (b) the precise nature of the proposed prohibition or restriction and when it is intended to take effect; and
  - (c) the evidence upon which it has based its decision and upon which it has reasonable grounds to believe that each of the conditions in paragraph 1 are met.

3. In exceptional cases where the competent authority deems it necessary to take urgent action under this Article in order to prevent detriment arising from the PEPP, the competent authority may take action on a provisional basis with no less than 24 hours' written notice before the measure is intended to take effect to all other competent authorities and EIOPA, provided that all the criteria in this Article are met and that, in addition, it is clearly established that a one-month notification period would not adequately address the specific concern or threat. The competent authority shall not take action on a provisional basis for a period exceeding three months.

4. The competent authority shall publish on its website notice of any decision to impose any prohibition or restriction referred to in paragraph 1. That notice shall specify details of the prohibition or restriction, a time after the publication of the notice from which the measures will take effect and the evidence upon which it is satisfied each of the conditions in paragraph 1 are met. The prohibition or restriction shall only apply in relation to action taken after the publication of the notice.
5. The competent authority shall revoke a prohibition or restriction if the conditions in paragraph 1 no longer apply.

Facilitation and coordination

1. EIOPA shall perform a facilitation and coordination role in relation to action taken by competent authorities under Article 63. In particular, EIOPA shall ensure that action taken by a competent authority is justified and proportionate and that, where appropriate, a consistent approach is taken by competent authorities.
2. After receiving notification under Article 63 of any prohibition or restriction that is to be imposed under that Article, EIOPA shall adopt an opinion on whether the prohibition or restriction is justified and proportionate. If EIOPA considers that the taking of a measure by other competent authorities is necessary to address the risk, it shall state this in its opinion. The opinion shall be published on EIOPA's website.
3. Where a competent authority proposes to take, or takes, action contrary to an opinion adopted by EIOPA under paragraph 2 or declines to take action contrary to such an opinion, it shall immediately publish on its website a notice fully explaining its reasons for so doing.

Article 65

Product intervention powers of EIOPA

1. In accordance with Article 9(2) of Regulation (EU) No 1094/2010, EIOPA shall monitor the market for PEPPs which are marketed, distributed or sold in the Union.
2. In accordance with Article 9(5) of Regulation (EU) No 1094/2010, EIOPA may, where the conditions in paragraphs 3 and 4 of this Article are fulfilled, temporarily prohibit or restrict in the Union the marketing, distribution or sale of certain PEPPs or PEPPs with certain specified features.

A prohibition or restriction may apply in circumstances, or be subject to exceptions, specified by EIOPA.

3. EIOPA shall take a decision under paragraph 2 of this Article after consulting the other ESAs, where appropriate, and only if all of the following conditions are fulfilled:
  - (a) the proposed action addresses a significant PEPP saver protection concern, including with respect to the long-term retirement nature of the product, or a threat to the orderly functioning and integrity of financial markets or to the stability of the whole or part of the financial system in the Union;
  - (b) regulatory requirements under Union law that are applicable to PEPP do not address the threat;
  - (c) a competent authority or competent authorities have not taken action to address the threat or the actions that have been taken do not adequately address the threat.

Where the conditions set out in the first subparagraph are fulfilled, EIOPA may impose the prohibition or restriction referred to in paragraph 2 on a precautionary basis before a PEPP has been marketed or sold to PEPP savers.

4. When taking action under this Article, EIOPA shall ensure that the action does not:
  - (a) have a detrimental effect on the efficiency of financial markets or on PEPP savers that is disproportionate to the benefits of the action; or
  - (b) create a risk of regulatory arbitrage.

Where a competent authority or competent authorities have taken a measure under Article 63, EIOPA may take any of the measures referred to in paragraph 2 of this Article without issuing the opinion provided for in Article 64.

5. Before deciding to take any action under this Article, EIOPA shall notify competent authorities of the action it proposes.
6. EIOPA shall publish on its website notice of any decision to take any action under this Article. The notice shall specify details of the prohibition or restriction and specify a time after the publication of the notice from which the measures will take effect. A prohibition or restriction shall only apply to action taken after the measures take effect.
7. EIOPA shall review a prohibition or restriction imposed under paragraph 2 at appropriate intervals and at least every three months. If the prohibition or restriction is not renewed after that three-month period, it shall expire.
8. Any action taken by EIOPA in accordance with this Article shall take precedence over any previous action taken by a competent authority.

9. The Commission shall adopt delegated acts in accordance with Article 72 to supplement this Regulation with criteria and factors to be applied by EIOPA in determining when there is a significant PEPP saver protection concern, including with respect to the long-term retirement nature of the product, or a threat to the orderly functioning and integrity of financial markets or to the stability of the whole or part of the financial system of the Union referred to in point (a) of the first subparagraph of paragraph 3.

Those criteria and factors shall include:

- (a) the degree of complexity of the PEPP and the relation to the type of PEPP saver to whom it is marketed and sold;
- (b) the degree of innovation of a PEPP, an activity or a practice;
- (c) the leverage a PEPP or practice provides;
- (d) in relation to the orderly functioning and integrity of financial markets, the size or the total amount of accumulated capital of the PEPP.

EIOPA shall submit those draft implementing technical standards to the Commission by ... [12 months after the date of entry into force of this Regulation].
